hardworking human, cats are still part of what gives its name truth.

These difficult and loveable furry companions have been creating chaos in our lives since, as far as we know, 7500 BC. This was the first record to feature domesticated cats, though it could have been earlier than that. Cats have been domesticated for helpful reasons as well, for hunting mice and other vermin that infest the homestead. Unlike dogs, they have kept much of their wild instincts and behavior. Hunting, grooming, and other behaviors have shown this even after years of breeding and domestication. Though, many genetic disorders have been found over time due to the over breeding of the species. There is now an overpopulation of cats, which creates more strays out in the wild. This creates a problem within the bird and other cat victims population, and the desexing of cats has become crucial keep the balance. The best way to help with this issue is to adopt and be a responsible cat parent by getting them fixed.

Celebrate today for the cats but more importantly for those hardworking people in your life!

But the angel said to her, 'Do not be afraid, Mary; you have found favor with God. You will conceive and give birth to a son, and you are to call him Jesus. He will be great and he will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over Jacob's descendants forever; his kingdom will never end'.

-Matthew 22:36-38

Interesting Fact

December 15th is also Wear Your Pearls Day! This special day is a reminder to remember your inner worth. Pearls are made from grains of sand and using this as a metaphor for the day shows that strength can come from struggle. Wearing pearls shows the resilience that comes with that transformation. This day encourages talks about self worth and mental health but also reflection on the resilience that people have shown through their lives. Observe this day by wearing your favorite pearls in any form or even engaging online in different discussion or celebratory groups!
